Not another agenda revision!!!!

Short story, in case you are tired of reading agendas. Elizabeth and I (after lots of “ I don’t get what you’re saying...” instances) came to an agreement that our job is to facilitate discussion with the group, so the agenda has been slightly modified to reflect that. We will provide enough information to describe what we’ve been doing (background and current methods) and then do group activities to work through the proposed method to see if there are any major issues we need to collectively work through before we put this thing into practice. Lemme know if there are any questions or comments. I need to resend this out to the group (whether or not they look at it is another issue).
